Kidnaped Louisville Woman Ransomed for $50,000—Jugoslavia's Murdered King Buried—Collective Bargaining Plan of General Motors.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 24.—A kidnaping case came to a climax with the return of the victim, Mrs. Berry V. Stoll, to her home. The young society matron had been held captive for six days in Indianapolis by Thomas H. Robinson, Jr., a maniac who had twice been confined in insane asylums. She was treated rather roughly but not really injured, and was set free after Mr. Stoll paid $50,000 ransom.

T. M. Robinson, Jr.

Robinson fled with all but $500 of this sum and a country-wide hunt for him was begun. His wife and father were arrested, charged with complicity in the kidnaping. Mrs. Robinson, however, was said to have protected Mrs. Stoll to the best of her ability and it was she who returned the abducted woman to her relatives, abandoning her crazy husband.

In Detroit one Edward Lickwala, a youth with a police record, was arrested for attempting to extort $5,000 from Edsel Ford under threats of death. He was promptly indicted by a federal grand jury, pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to serve ten years in the Leavenworth penitentiary.

WITH overpowering pomp and ceremony Alexander I, assassinated king of Yugoslavia, was laid to rest with his fathers, the founders of the Karageorgievitch dynasty. Nearly every nation on earth was represented at the funeral rites. King Boris of Bulgaria and King Carol of Rumania were there, as was President Lebrun of France. King Victor Emmanuel of Italy was represented by the duke of Spoleto, and Chancellor Hitler of Germany by Gen. Hermann Wilhelm-Goering, premier of Prussia, who flew from Berlin. England sent Prince George, now duke of Kent. Other notables present were Prince Cyril of Bulgaria, a delegation from Poland, Foreign Minister D. Maximov of Greece, Foreign Minister Dr. Tevrik Rustu Bey of Turkey, Foreign Minister Dr. Eduard Benes of Czechoslovakia, Foreign Minister Nicholas Titulescu of Rumania, Prince Nicholas of Rumania, and Undersecretary of Justice Karl Karwinsky of Austria.

Belgrade was thronged with many thousands of Serbs, Croats and Slovenes. One entire village of 900 peasants arrived from Herzegovina, a picturesque crowd many of whom had sworn not to shave for three months in token of their grief. For two days Alexander's body lay in state in the palace while the people passed by the bier. Then it was removed to the cathedral for requisite high mass, after which there was a two mile procession to the railway station. From there the body was conveyed to Topolo, 55 miles from the capital, and interred in the family mausoleum.

FRENCH police having caught three of the companions of "Kalemen," really Tschernocemsky, who slew Alexander and Louis Barthou in Marseilles, the authorities of half a dozen countries were making progress in unravelling the assassination plot.

From the confessions of those captured and from the investigations of the police of France and Belgrade it was learned that Kalemen was a notorious Macedonian terrorist named Valda Georgeff Tschernocemsky, who killed two Bulgarian political leaders several years ago. He and his associates in the plot were directed in their murderous work by a mysterious "master mind" and the authorities assert this man, whom the assassins knew as "the doctor," controlled the activities of several distinct terrorist bands that were ignorant of one another's moves.

Dr. Ante Pavelic, described as the leader of the Croatian terrorists, and Eugent Kvaternik, his aid, were arrested in Turin, Italy, just as Alexander was being buried in Yugoslavia. Kvaternik was known as the "delegate" and was supposed to have acted as liaison man for Pavelic, making contact with the Marseilles assassins.

The police had hunted them throughout Europe. Kvaternik was trailed as far as the village of Etaples in France, where the trail was lost. Pavelic, however, was known to be in Italy, and the search turned there, on the theory that the two would get together.

Continental police were still hunting for Maria Vlodroch, blond stenographer, who is supposed to have smuggled into France the murder weapons, and Gustav Berchic, alleged to have conducted the Croatian exile "murder team" at Janka Butta, Hungary, where the assassins held target practice.

Premier Bonnergue's French cabinet was considerably changed as a result of the tragedy in Marseilles. Albert Sarraut, minister of the interior, and Henri Cheron, minister of justice, resigned and were replaced respectively by Paul Marchandeau and Henri Lomery. Pierre Laval was made minister of foreign affairs to succeed Barthou and his place as minister of colonies was given to Louis Rollin.

FRANCE lost another of her elder statesmen in the death of Raymond Poincare who was president from 1913 to 1920 and returned later to public service as premier. It was during that period that he signed the pact in an effort to compel Germany to pay the war reparations to France. Poincare was born in Lorraine, and that fact explained in part his unrelenting attitude toward Germany in dealing with post-war problems. Entering political life in 1887, he was mixed up in many prominent "affairs" and made a record as an intense patriot and a liberal republican. In 1920, when he was called out of retirement, he succeeded in saving the country from its disastrous financial state. Poincare was seventy-four years old when he died, and had been in poor health for some years.

SECRETARY OF STATE HULL is vexed by what he calls the "indefensible practice" of certain countries in boosting tariffs or other restrictions to obtain concessions by reducing them again in negotiations with the United States for trade agreements. He made a statement about it, intimating that under such conditions there may be a failure of negotiations.

Although no nation was named, Germany has begun a program of controlled imports and has denounced its most-favored-nation treaty with the United States, and France is increasing tariffs.

FIRST shot in the coming contest between the automobile manufacturers and the American Federation of Labor was fired by the General Motors corporation in the form of an offer to its 130,000 employees of its own plan for collective bargaining.

In a letter sent to every worker President Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., said: "We of the General Motors recognize collective bargaining as a constructive step forward, both for the employees and the management. Regardless of any obligations that may exist, we propose not only to continue the idea, but to develop it."

The plan, which actually is already in effect, was designed to meet all requirements of section 7A of the national industrial recovery act. Though the company in its communication did not mention the union, it declared that "membership in a labor union or other type of labor, or employee organization does not in itself establish the right of any such union or other organization to represent employees in collective bargaining negotiations."

Representatives for such purpose must have been specifically chosen by the employees if they are to represent and the fact of such choice must be established.

Employees must be given complete freedom in setting up collective bargaining organizations and choosing representatives, the company declared.

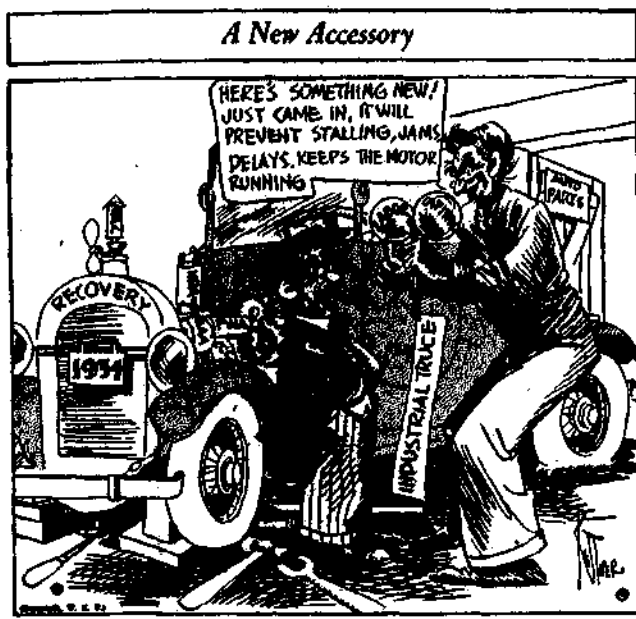

The management may, however, assist any employee organization in plans for employee mutual benefit, provided that to the determination of the right of employees to participate in the benefits there is no discrimination by management on the ground of affiliation with any labor organization.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT went to Williamsburg, Va., and took part in the ceremonies attendant on the inauguration of John Stewart Bryan as president of the old College of William and Mary. In return for his courtesy Mr. Roosevelt was given the honorary degree of doctor of laws. The same honor was conferred on Gov. George C. Peery. The exercises were conducted in the reconstructed main building of the college, designed by Sir Christopher Wren.

On the same day took place the formal rededication of Duke of Gloucester street, the city's main thoroughfare, which has been restored nearly to its original appearance as the last major construction project of the restoration of colonial Williamsburg. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., financial backer of the restoration which already has cost approximately $15,000,000, was among the distinguished visitors present, along with cabinet members, congressmen, diplomats and educators.

REPUBLICAN senatorial candidates in five states have incurred the displeasure of organized labor, and President Green of the American Federation of Labor has called on the members to work for the defeat of those men in the November elections. The five are Senators Reed of Pennsylvania, Walcott of Connecticut, Hatfield of West Virginia and Foss of Ohio, all seeking re-election, and George M. Bonquin, Republican nominee in Montana.

Circular letters signed by Green review the records in congress of Reed, Walcott, Foss and Hatfield. They say the candidates voted against the 30-hour-work-bill, for reduction of federal salaries, for the sales tax and for confirmation of Judge John J. Parker of North Carolina to the Supreme court after he had upheld what union men call the "yellow dog" contract between employers and workers.

A New Accessory

SCHOOL AFFAIRS

The Freshmen are slated to swing a party for the Sophs in the near future as a result of a lost ball game. This nine inning soft ball game with a party as the stakes was lost to the Sophomores.

Exams are over and regardless of their outcome we can all breathe easier again, that suspense was terrible and its a relief to have it over with, even if we did flunk—"after all there's still several more 6 week periods yet to come" and if we didn't there's a lot of consolation in the fact that there is now one less of those nerve racking experiences between us and graduation.

A teacher's job must be interesting at times. At least it takes in an assortment of ideas. We find Mr. Poor seriously discussing the fine points of religion with our students and five minutes later he is on the other side of the study hall receiving pointers on the fine art of plucking the eyebrows—such is life.

The lost and found department has been functioning very efficiently so far. Articles of all descriptions find their way here during the course of the year to be held until claimed by their rightful owner. Test days are the busiest of all in the turnover of straying properties, probably because everyone is more or less nervous and therefore forgetful. Book and equipment make the most frequent appearances, but are easily identified and usually returned soon after their loss is discovered. Other smaller things may remain here throughout the year, either because their owner does not miss them or does not value them enough to bother.

At the time this is written Mr. Poor is holding a small but rather varied collection of lost properties. They are 1 pr. mittens, 1 nail file, 1 comb, 1 ring, 1 coin purse, 1 pen, 1 pencil, 1 pair of glasses in case, 1 tie clip, 1 pin and a varied assortment of keys.

In spite of our late fall and promising weather, there has been quite a marked "back to the village" movement on the part of students whose residence is in the country. Beside those who regularly do move in at this time of the year, we find several students permanently established in town, who up to this time have been "commuters" driving back and forth night and morning. Among these are Roger Kniff, who will stay at Mercy Hospital through the winter months, and Arthur Corwin who is living with his uncle, Nels Corwin. The Cody family also moved to town this week.

"While teacher's away, the kids will play." Only on this occasion it was with permission. Several of the upper classmen took advantage of Friday holiday to go "a-hunting." One party of eight gunners and two hounds, after prolonged and unsuccessful attempts, got Alex's antiquated "T" under motion, finally piled into two other "jalopies" and hid themselves to hills and rabbit filled swamps in quest of the elusive ruffed grouse and the dignified snowshoe hare.

From all accounts of natives for miles around, "they came in with a dash and went out with a bang." Their presence was made known throughout the day by a lasting fusillade resembling in general the German bombardment at the Marne. Did they see anything? Ask them. Did they get anything? They did not.

As the season advances and the weather grows colder thoughts turn once again to basketball.

Coach Cornell has anticipated this and is starting the formation of this year's basket ball club early. On Wednesday he will meet with the volunteers and practice will start very soon. Mr. Cornell expects about forty fellows to turn out. From this group he expects to develop two squads. The first will have as its members last year's veterans and perhaps a few new men. The second squad will be made up mostly of Freshmen and Sophomores who are trying to accumulate knowledge and experience.

Intelligibility in one form or another has taken its toll this year by robbing the team of at least two valued players. Graduation is another factor that must always be taken into consideration. One veteran player and several others who showed no little ability have been removed because of this. Three other experienced players, Leo Loveley, Don Gothro and Geo. Hanson will be unable to report for a while. All three of these fellows have been on the sick list and will not be able to play at the time of the year, we find several students

Fitzgerald Outlines His Policies

A large crowd heard Frank D. Fitzgerald at Cheboygan last week when he in a very brief address gave a resume of some of the things he will do when he is governor of Michigan. And when Mr. Fitzgerald speaks his audience knows full well that he will DO the things that he says he will. If there was any doubt on the part of those in his audience as to his policies for the good of Michigan, it was completely dispelled after hearing his address. In his usual plain forceful and honest manner he outlined a few of his policies.

Among the things he said are: "If the people elect the Republican state ticket, and a Republican legislature, I hope and believe that one of the first things we will change is the Old Age Pension Law."

"We will keep the old age pension policy. It is good, but we will do away with the head tax feature. Old age pension can be financed out of existing revenue, without the head tax. We can get the money by eliminating a lot of waste in state government."

"I claim no credit for opposing the head tax. Any high school girl or boy can see that it is impractical and unsound."

Fitzgerald stated that only $32,000 head tax money had been collected up to July 1, when the fiscal year ended.

"Do you know how much of that money was spent in administration?" he asked. "Just $208,000. And do you know how much was distributed for the relief of worthy pensioners? Just $16,250."

"The whole thing is ridiculous and disgraceful. Without any shadow of statutory authority the administration went out and hired 4,000 examiners to go from house to house registering men and women from whom it was hoped to collect a head tax."

"An attempt was made to build a political organization at the expense of the impoverished and aged people of Michigan."

"My purpose will be to take care of the old in an orderly decent way without any attempt to make political capital or their distress and without requiring the tax payers of Michigan to bear the unfair and bothersome burden of a head tax or any other form of special taxation."

"I do not question the integrity of the Democratic administration, but I do question the judgment of it."

"Government has become a series of committees, boards, rules and commissions. We must do away with unnecessary procedures of government. They tell that your taxes have been lightened to the extent of $10,000,000 by the present state administration. True they have been lightened in one way they seek to take credit for and that is through the 15 mill tax law that you and enough others voted for directly at the polls that brought about that lightening. But in reality, that lightening has been made not because of the other heavy duties being imposed upon you. For every dollar you were saved by that 15 mill tax you are now paying $2.40 more in sales, liquor and other taxes."

"We must amend the sales tax laws itself because it is the only source of revenue at the present time. We must amend it so as to exempt the necessities of life. We must retain the state control of the sale of intoxicating liquor, but we must raise the age limit to 21 years to whom liquor may be sold. We owe that to the school children of our state whose delinquency rate is traced to the laxity of the law."

"It becomes the duty of our state to see that our schools are kept running the full school year. What we need is an equalizer so that it would cost no more for a boy or girl to go to school in Cheboygan than it would in Detroit. People must not be penalized for their position in life."

"I issue a half license plates to the Michigan auto owners in 1932 and again in 1934. It was good business as 143,000 more cars are operating on the roads today. Think of what that means to the accessory man, the tire salesman, and to gasoline station operators."

"I am going to make you one promise, the only one I have made to anyone during the campaign. I promise to take my job seriously if elected and I am hopeful. I will devote my time to clean, honest and business like administration as your governor."

WM. ELLIS PASSED AWAY

Wm. Ellis, well known resident of Beaver Creek Township, passed away at Mercy Hospital Wednesday afternoon following a several days illness. His children were called to his bedside and were here when he passed away.

Mr. Ellis who was 66 years old was born in Switzerland County, Ohio. He came to Crawford in the spring of 1917 and purchased the farm property in Beaver Creek which since had been his home.

The funeral was held Friday afternoon with services at the farm home, the pastor and the Rocommon, officiating at the service of the Congregational church. There were many neighbors and old friends in attendance and the following relatives, A. Ellis and family of Elberta, R. H. Ellis and George Ellis and family of Alexandria, Ind. Mrs. Stella Hille and family, Elwood, Ind., Elmer Ellis and wife, Frankfort, and Lester Hall and wife of Bear Lake, Mich.

VOTERS: Don't be misled by the ballahoo that you should vote for a democrat just to help President Roosevelt. That is the suggested idea of much of the democratic advertising on the part of some of the state and national candidates. It's all bunk. The President and the country need such men. Why, folks, Vandenberg of Michigan is one of America's greatest statesmen today. Do you suppose that President Roosevelt doesn't know that? And he wants to keep such men in the senate. But the trouble is that his lapdog democratic congress is playing politics. Just as the republicans did when congress was lapdogged republican a few years ago. They want Arthur Vandenberg out of the way. They're afraid he may be a strong contender for the presidency in 1936. And that isn't a joke either. And besides Picard wants to go to Washington, not because he is needed but just because he wants the job. Don't let the politicians fool you. They will tell what they are going to do when they get to Washington but the fact is that most of their promises cannot be carried out even if they want to, and the rest are only campaign promises. Vandenberg has been tried and tested and today he is one of America's greatest statesmen and is a valuable member of the senate and should be kept there just as long as he continues the splendid service he has been rendering. His opponents criticize him because he dares to approve some of the administration's measures and also is free to criticize those measures that his reasoning convince him they are not sound. If that isn't the height of honest official service then we don't know what to call it. Keep Vandenberg right on the job by voting for him.

Question Box By ED WYNN The Perfect Fool

Dear Mr. Wynn:
I just heard of a man who kept company with a woman for sixty years and at last he married her when he was one hundred and nine years old. Do you believe this? If so, how do you account for a man marrying at one hundred and nine years of age, after going with a woman for sixty years?

Sincerely,
B. WILDERED.
Answer: He probably couldn't hold out any longer.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
My son, who is in Bridgeport, Conn., has gotten into some sort of trouble and has been arrested. I have been advised to get a criminal lawyer for him. Are there any criminal lawyers in Bridgeport?

Yours truly,
E. LIZABETH.
Answer: There probably are several, but you'll have a hard time proving it.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
I just visited the city of Washington and went to the government buildings. I was particularly interested in the senate chamber. I saw a minister sitting next to the vice president of the United States. Tell me why is the minister there? Does he pray for the senators?

Sincerely,
A. SITESER.
Answer: No! No! No! The minister does not pray for the senators. The minister takes a look at the senators and then prays for the country.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
I met a young lady last week and am very fond of her. We were discussing "kissing" last night and she said that kisses were like a bottle of olives. What did she mean by that?

Sincerely,
O. S. Q. LATION.
Answer: Very simple. She means that after you get the first one, the rest come easy.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
I have traveled all over the world. Everything is hustle and bustle. There seems to be no sentiment left in the world. Is there one place in the world I can find "happiness" and "contentment"?

Yours truly,
PHIL OSOPHER.
Answer: There sure is. You can find them both in the dictionary.

FINDS BANKS WILLING BORROWERS CAUTIOUS

Prominent Writer Refutes
Statements Bankers Are Refusing Sound Loans—
Describes Reasons for Reduced Volume of Credit.

FIGURES supplied by typical, well-managed banks in different parts of the country show that a high proportion of all applications for loans have been granted in the past year or two, says Albert W. Atwood in a recent article in The Saturday Evening Post on "The Idle Dollar." Excerpts from Mr. Atwood's article follow:

"Frequently banks state that as high as 90 per cent of all such applications are granted and for from 60 to 75 per cent of the amount asked for. Allowing that the bankers make these figures as favorable to their own case as possible, it seems strange that we are told again and again that banks are not lending."

"If we take into account the whole class of regular bank borrowers, the plain fact is very few want to borrow yet. For the word 'borrow' is merely another name for the word 'debt,' and we face a great world-wide drive to get out of debt."

"An experienced small-city banker, asked if banks were lending freely enough, wisely replied: 'The really good borrower does not wish to borrow now. In fact, I think our customers are making a remarkably fine showing in paying off their loans, especially loans of long standing.'"

The Shrinkage of Credit

"Or if we think of business concerns rather than of individuals, it is conservative to say that those able to maintain high credit ratings have been mostly the ones able to maintain ample cash resources and, therefore, least in need of credit. As prices and costs fell, many concerns found themselves with plenty of cash because of the shrinkage in operations. Cash resources were still further swollen by reduced dividends, and smaller inventories made bank borrowings still less necessary."

"Expressed in another way, banks cannot expand credit, they cannot make loans, unless there is a demand for the same. Fundamentally, the business transaction makes the loan, the loan does not make the transaction. It is a mistake to try to force upon business organizations funds which they do not need under the circumstances. The 'idle dollar' is a natural and proper enough phenomenon. A demand for credit is difficult to create artificially, and there is always danger in so doing."

"Banks must be liquid enough at all times to pay depositors. The idea of a commercial loan is that it represents a self-liquidating process in business. If the banker makes only those advances that are inherently sound, and selects his maturities wisely, he will have incoming funds to meet demands."

Government Lending
"As everybody knows, the government has vast lending agencies, for home owners, farmers, and the like. These have nothing to do with the subject of this article, except that all such government operations would be impossible if the banks did not lend the government money for the purpose."

"No one can set a time when borrowing will be resumed. But it will come when men once more feel that conditions are sufficiently settled to warrant them in taking chances, in entering upon deals, and in trying to make money."

Mr. Atwood says that it may be that the banks are overcautious now just as they were overconfident in 1929, but calls attention to the fact that until a little more than a year ago banks were falling "partly because they had loaned too freely and were being criticized right and left for precisely that." He adds:

"Indeed, the banks which had been cautious in their lending policy came through the crisis safely. Under such conditions it is utterly useless to criticize banks for not making loans. After the experience they had for several years, especially in 1932 and 1933, it is only natural that they should relax their requirements very slowly and gradually."

"Unfortunately, many of the applications for loans are not from people who want temporary banking accommodations for three or six months and are quite able to meet their maturity dates, but are from those who really need permanent capital. They are busted and they want someone to stake them to a new start. What they really seek is a partner to furnish them with long-time capital. But depositors insist upon being paid on demand, and, therefore, it is a grave question whether banks should tie up their funds for any length of time."

Banks Reduce R. F. C. Debts

Of $1,580,000,000 in loans made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to banks of all classes since it began operations in February 1932, the sum of $1,090,000,000, or 69 per cent, has been repaid.

This is a considerably higher ratio of repayment than to all other classes of borrowers. All told, The R. F. C. has advanced $4,550,000,000 to non-governmental borrowers, of which $2,170,000,000, or only 48 per cent, has been repaid.

"PETER FINDS HE IS MISTAKEN

BUTTER THE SHRIKE was not the only newcomer in the Old Orchard. There was another stranger, and it did not take Peter Rabbit long to discover that he was looked on with suspicion by all the other birds. The first time Peter saw him he was walking on the ground some distance off. He didn't hop, but walked, and at that distance looked all black. The way he carried himself and his movements as he walked made Peter think of Creaker the Grackle. In fact, Peter mistook him for Creaker. That was because he didn't really look at him. If he had he would have seen at once that the stranger was smaller than Creaker.

Presently the stranger flew up in a tree, and at once Peter saw that his tail was little more than half as long as that of Creaker. At once it came over Peter that this was a stranger to him. Of course his curiosity was aroused at once. Anything like that is sure to arouse Peter's curiosity. He didn't have any doubt whatever that this was a member of the Blackbird family, but which one it could be he hadn't the least idea. "Jenny Wren will know," thought Peter, and scampered off to hunt her up.

"Who is that new member of the Blackbird family who has come to live in the Old Orchard?" Peter asked as soon as he found Jenny Wren.

Jenny's sharp little eyes snapped and she twitched her funny little tail as only she can. "What's that?" she asked.

"Who is that new member of the Blackbird family who has come to live in the Old Orchard?" repeated Peter.

"There isn't any new member of the Blackbird family living in the Old Orchard," retorted Jenny Wren tartly.

"There is, too," contradicted Peter. "I saw him with my own eyes. I can see him now. He's sitting in that tree over yonder this very minute. He's all black, so of course he must be a member of the Blackbird family."

"Tut, tut, tut, tut, tut," scolded Jenny Wren. "Tut, tut, tut, tut, tut, tut! That fellow isn't a member of the blackbird family at all, and what's more, he isn't black. Go over there and take a good look at him and then come back and tell me if you still think he is black."

Jenny turned her back on Peter and went on hunting worms. There being nothing else to do, Peter hopped over where he could get a good look at the stranger. The sun was shining full on him, and he wasn't black at all. For the most part he was very dark green. At least, that was what Peter thought at first glance. Then, as the stranger moved, he seemed to be a rich purple in places. In short, he changed color. His feathers were like those of Creaker the Grackle—iridescent.

FOR FEARLESS INDEPENDENT THOUGHT AND ACTION

ROY O. WOODRUFF FOR CONGRESS

Republican Ticket

He has never been tied to any group, faction or clique and has many times through his independent thought favored forward-looking legislation long before such ideas were adopted by major political leaders. He has freely criticized both parties when he thought what they were doing was not in line with the public need. He was among the first to discover crookedness among his own partisans and denounce it and demand prosecutions—result, recovery to the United States Treasury of $37,000,000 from the war grafters. He was the first to advocate Federal laws which would give the United States Government control over detection and prosecution of criminals engaged in interstate crime. This is now the law.

Congressman Woodruff was one of the first to advocate the plan to guarantee bank deposits. Long before the NRA was organized he proposed a plan to reduce hours in order to distribute available work among the unemployed. He has fought hard for the beet sugar industry, Michigan oil interests and all other lines of endeavor peculiar to this section, as well as becoming a recognized national authority on tax and tariff matters and the relief of distress. His membership on the Ways and Means Committee gives his district and the State a place on the most important committee of the House of Representatives.

HIS CANDIDACY IS ENDORSED BY THE FARM AND LABOR ORGANIZATIONS

Do you want a Representative in Congress from this district who has voted against FUNDS to FEED the HUNGRY? Roy O. Woodruff DID THIS!

Do you want a representative in Congress who lives in this District and who will maintain a home and office here 24 months out of every term, so that he may keep in touch with conditions and thus properly represent his district? ROY O. WOODRUFF HAS NOT DONE THIS!

Do you want a professional politician for Representative in Congress who has not had the courage of his convictions, but has only voted for part of President Roosevelt's great constructive program because of political expediency? This has been Roy O. Woodruff's record in the last session of Congress.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ellis of Elberta, Mich. and Louis Sackrider of Roscommon were injured in an auto accident early Saturday evening. The injured persons were taken to Mercy Hospital, but were able to be dismissed Monday. The accident happened just above the bridge on US-27, when Mr. Sackrider, who was traveling towards his home in Roscommon ran into the Ellis auto coming the opposite way. Mr. Ellis says he made an effort to get out of Sackrider's way, but the latter plunged into his car broadside. The Ellis' had been in Beaver Creek attending the funeral of Mr. Ellis' father and were returning to their home near Traverse City. Mrs. Ellis received a cut over one eye in which it was necessary to take several stitches and Mr. Ellis received a cut on the forehead and their car was a wreck. Mr. Sackrider complained of injury to his back.

THERE'S an all-German town in Michigan. It's famous for its cooking and its brewing. FRANKENMUTH!

When beer came back, people all over the State started asking for its famous beer: Old Frankenthuth Gold Medal Beer.

They knew the traditions of the town and of the Old Frankenthuth brewery. They knew this:

For years, Old Frankenthuth Gold Medal has been a beer that everybody likes.

Perhaps you asked for Old Frankenthuth Gold Medal and couldn't get it. The demand was too great; dealers' orders could not be supplied. Now the Old Frankenthuth Gold Medal brewers are working day and night, and the Brewery has been enlarged to meet your demand.

beginning of the season.

Despite the somewhat gloomy outlook for this year's ball club, Coach Cornell has high hopes of whipping them into shape for the first game, and although it seems doubtful that the team can, under the circumstances, actually do what they last season gave promise of being able to do, failure will not come from lack of effort.

Considering the spartan and physical strain the boys are laboring under the following schedule of some games is going to be a tough one to handle. However, there is little doubt but that it can be handled.

Camp News

Camp Pioneer

New mess tables, the best that will be found anywhere in the OOC camps, are being constructed for this company. They have wide solid tops which are highly varnished, and wide seats painted black. Camp Pioneer officers have been making efforts to secure construction of a much needed mess hall to replace the one now in use which is much too small and inconveniently arranged. The matter has been referred to the war department officials in Washington.

Harry D. Mills, technician of the Milwaukee office of the OOC, made an inspection of this camp last week.

A crew of OOC men have set out 10,000 Norway pine seedlings near the experimental station east of Roscommon and planted in acre of Norway pine seed.

OOC labor is being used on construction of a new building made of cement blocks at the Roscommon experimental station. This work is under direction of Foreman Earl Dutton who has directed construction of the building at Higgins Lake State Park.

Lieut. G. M. Katzman, camp surgeon, announces he will give a series of health lectures especially for the benefit of the new enrollees.

Lewis Walker was lately made supply sergeant of this organization. Walker's place in the hospital has been assigned to Stanley Williams.

Because of overcrowded conditions here Capt. T. J. Betts, district commander ordered the transfer of 14 men from the Kent Co. contingent to be transferred to the Higgins Lake OOC camp.

A forestry exhibit from the University of Michigan has been brought to this camp by the educational adviser for a short time. It is to be returned to Ann Arbor shortly.

New ratings were recently given Lewis Walker, Leo Pare and Leonard Warren. The first man is a leader and the latter two are assistant leaders.

Camp Higgins

Quit a delegation from this company is attending the freshman college at Roscommon on Tuesday and Thursday nights when classes in rhetoric and algebra are taught. Those from Higgins Lake in the algebra class are Truman Lavack, William Jager, Julius O'Brien, John Orenson, Kendall Welch, Leand Charron, Jack Lagrow, Gerald Garringer, Whitney Meistrup and Ivan Schumaker. Those in the English class are Arnold Dadoes, John Flynn, Paul Hendrickson, Charles Hicks, Harold Hicks, Edward Peterson, John Robinson, Maurice Wilson, Anthony Reele and John Cataldo. All but two are taking the classes for college credit.

Pro. W. F. Morosky of Michigan State College, now stationed at the AuSable Camp, gave a talk Tuesday night at this place on flies, mosquitoes and insects which was entertaining and instructive. His remarks were much appreciated by all who heard them.

In order to pass the time more pleasantly during the showers last Saturday, Capt. Todd, district chaplain, held a keno game in the mess hall with candy prizes.

Several convertible oil drum type stoves were received last week from the Camp Custer quartermaster for use in various buildings around camp. This type stove is found to heat better than the type formerly used.

Arnold Dadoes of this organization won the district ping pong tournament recently held at Grayling.

"Chrysanthemums" is the topic of Capt. Todd's sermon about the 4th forestry district this week. Recent additions to this company include 19 men from Allegan Co., 20 from Kent, and 25 from Ingham.

Al Marsac, a former member of this company, paid his old friends here a visit last week. He is now employed by the Overland Transportation Company of Grayling.

SENATOR JAMES F. BYRNES of South Carolina, chairman of the senatorial campaign expenditures committee, announced that an investigation would be conducted in Pennsylvania as a result of reports that the Republicans are spending a large amount of money.

Reports reaching the committee, according to Byrnes' statement, are that Republican expenditures for the May 15 primary were much larger than the amount filed with the secretary of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Senator David A. Reed filed expenditures of $215,000 and his unsuccessful opponent for the nomination, Gov. Gifford Pinchot, filed expenditures of $182,000. Joseph Giffey, the successful Democratic candidate for the nomination, admitted $76,000 in the filing.

CHINA'S Nationalist government has retaliated against the silver policy of the United States by imposing a 10 per cent tax on all silver exports from China. This action followed upon receipt of the American reply to a recent note from China pleading for United States cooperation in maintaining silver prices and halting the drain of silver from China.

GOVERNMENT crop benefit checks for more than $352,000,000 have been paid to farmers participating in the production adjustment program, according to figures compiled by the AAA. Some $375,000,000 additional is scheduled for payment under programs now in effect, nearly 10 per cent of it before the end of this year. Thus the farmers' stake in the AAA approximates $1,000,000,000.

Payments already made or to be made before January are included in the estimate of the bureau of agricultural economics which places 1934 cash farm income at about $6,000,000,000 compared to $5,000,000,000 last year, and $4,338,000,000 in 1932.

THERE is an interesting report circulating in Wisconsin, especially in Madison. It is to the effect that President Glenn Frank of the University of Wisconsin is looking toward the Republican Presidential nomination in 1936 and that this idea explains his refusal to permit Lloyd K. Garrison to remain in Washington as head of the national labor relations board.

The Madison Capital Times said it understood Doctor Frank feels the Republican party is in need of a "liberal" candidate, yet not a "dangerous" liberal, and believes he is in a position to qualify.

To interview Doctor Frank declined to comment on the newspaper story. He said his insistence that Garrison return to his duties as dean of the law school was solely in the interests of the university.

DELEGATES to the American Federation of Labor convention in San Francisco adopted unanimously and with cheers a resolution proposing legislation for a six-hour day and five-day week for all workers, private and government.

A committee appointed to investigate possibilities and merit of shorter work periods reported favorably.

William Green, president of A. F. of L., made an impassioned speech in favor of shorter work periods during which he said the federation can be expected to mobilize its economic strength to make a concerted drive on industry and owners of industry for adoption of a six-hour day and five-day week and that legislation by congress would be sought at the forthcoming session so that there will be enforcement of this economic reform not to make less work for those already employed, but to create work opportunities for more people.

Resolutions adopted provide for no reduction in wages to result from shorter work periods. Also

GOV. GIFFORD PINCHOT of Pennsylvania was in the past been in sympathy with much of President Roosevelt's program, but he has now definitely broken away by coming out in favor of the re-election of Senator David A. Reed, anti-New Deal Republican, whose defeat would be most welcome to the administration. Immediately after Pinchot announced his stand in a speech at Wilkes-Barre, Postmaster General Farley conferred with Mr. Roosevelt and then, as chairman of the Democratic National committee, gave out a stinging attack on Pinchot. In it he referred to Senator Reed as "perhaps the most outstanding foe of the President's policies," who, if elected, would "do everything in his power to hamper the President's program and to make a misdeal out of the New Deal."

It is said that the Pennsylvania Democrats are importuning the President to take a hand personally, and perhaps make a speech in the state, in an effort to win over rock-ribbed Pennsylvania and retire Senator Reed in a defeat which could also be construed as a slap at Pinchot and Andrew W. Mellon.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT has made it plain that the Civilian Conservation Corps, one of the least criticized features of his recovery program, is to be continued indefinitely. He wrote to Robert Fechner, director of the corps, saying:

"I have been greatly interested and encouraged by the fine report from your visits to OOC camps in many parts of the country.

"This kind of work must go on. I believe that the nation feels that the work of these young men is so thoroughly justified and, in addition, the benefits to the men themselves are so clear that the actual annual cost will be met without much opposition or much complaint."

The present authorized enrolled strength is 860,838, and enlistment of 100,000 is now under way to fill vacancies resulting from discharges. Fechner said 10,000 were dropping out each month to take private jobs.

RHOPE Island Republicans are quite satisfied with Felix Herbert as senator and have renominated him. For governor the state convention named Sen. Luke R. Leach, veteran of the Spanish-American and World wars.

resolutions opposing inflation of the currency, demanding equal representation with employers on NRA boards and vetoing the "crushing national debt with alarm and misgivings" were adopted.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, won a victory when the convention voted unanimously for the organization of workers into single unions embracing whole industries, as distinguished from craft unions limited to particular trades. The executive council was instructed to issue charters for the creation of national and international unions in the automotive, cement, aluminum and other mass production industries.

The council also was ordered to inaugurate organization campaigns in the iron and steel industries.

The federation also went on record in favor of pensions for the aged, for mothers of dependent children and for sickness and unemployment benefits.

THE voice of Hauptmann is the voice I heard in the cemetery that night when the $20,000 ransom was paid," said Col. Charles A. Lindbergh to the grand jury in Trenton, N. J., after he had listened to the suspect in the kidnaping and murder case. The grand jury accepted this as clinching testimony and returned an indictment against Bruno Hauptmann, charging murder.

The words "Joy doctor. Over here, doctor" were spoken by the man who got the ransom money from Lindbergh's intermediary, Dr. John F. Condon. They were spoken in the cemetery where the payment was made. Lindbergh heard them and remembered the voice.

CONFERRING with the full membership of the new national industrial recovery board headed by S. Clay Williams, President Roosevelt let it be known that he was far from satisfied with NRA enforcement in the past and asked the board to devise more vigorous and effective methods.

Price-fixing and production control were discussed, but not at length, and with the general understanding that, although price-fixing policies of the Johnson regime would be reversed on paper, no sweeping action would be taken to upset existing codes and any action at all would come slowly.

MOTHER—THE GOLFER

By ANNE CAMPBELL

SHE would be a better golfer if she had a keener eye for the ball, instead of gazing at the woodland and the sky. She can never think it better to keep looking at the ball, than to watch the baby robins. And to hear their mother call.

She would be a better golfer if she could be taught to know it's the game that is important, not where four-leaf clovers grow; for she stops the most strategic play and lets a foursome pass. Just to pick a four-leaf clover that is hiding in the grass.

She would be a better golfer—she might get a decent score—if she kept her mind on golfing and think manfully of "Fore!" But a golf game means to mother nothing but a chance to loze through a green field that reminds her of her happy rural days.

Father Sage Says:

It is the oldest girl at the party who goes into the kitchen and finds why the refreshments are delayed and sympathizes with the hostess.

ORGANIZED labor doesn't like S. Clay Williams, chairman of the new national industrial recovery board recently appointed by President Roosevelt.

At the San Francisco convention of the American Federation of Labor, a resolution was adopted demanding an investigation of Mr. Williams' attitude as vice chairman of the board of the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco company of Winston-Salem, N. C., the charge being that he was opposed to trade unions and to collective bargaining with them.

The federation's executive council instructed President William Green to present the matter to Mr. Roosevelt on his return to Washington, and he promised to do so. Incidentally, it should be recorded that Mr. Green was re-elected president without opposition.

It is not considered likely that the federation will get far with its fight on Mr. Williams. He was deliberately selected for membership on the board because his conservatism will be a foil to the comparative radicalism of other members, especially Sidney Hillman and Leon C. Marshall. The other two members, Arthur D. Whiteside, head of Dun and Bradstreet, and Walton Hale, Hamilton, are rated as moderately conservative.

The new board is hard at work on the problems which beset the NRA. It has devised methods for quicker transaction of business and has strengthened the subordinate executive personnel, and, in the matter of enforcement, it has agreed not to interfere in labor disputes, these being relegated to Secretary Perkins and the labor relations board.

TO THE White House correspondent President Roosevelt said that a federal housing program with a great many ramifications undoubtedly would be submitted to the next congress and also would constitute an important part of the administration's future relief policy.

The President expressed approval of the latest undertaking of the Federal Emergency Relief administration, which is to develop small communities of from 100 to 500 families. The families are taken off the direct relief rolls and moved into small houses, where they are intended to become self-supporting on communal farms provided by the government.

ALL the members of the German cabinet took the oath of loyalty to Chancellor Hitler at their first full meeting, and then Dr. Hans Heinrich Laumers, chief of the chancellery office, announced that "Adolf Hitler is fuhrer for life." He added that the Weimar constitution no longer exists. Many laws were decreed by the cabinet to carry on Hitler's policies. These included laws reducing the tax burdens of the big families and the cost of tax administration, laws reorganizing co-operative associations and "purifying the anti-trusts' trade," laws altering bankruptcy sales, reorganizing the traffic in grain "to enable the National Grain company to control grain even when the harvest is reduced."
